SOUTH AFRICA WHITE REVOLT OF 1922

by John Jewell

The independent White nation of South Africa was conquered in 1902. After three years of desperate struggle, the 40,000 guerrillas of the White farmer nation were crushed by a half million - heavily armed troops of the British Empire. Imagine for one moment the terrific battle waged by a handful of White farmers against more troops than the U.S. put into the Vietnam War.

The Boer War of 1899 rocked the entire world. In truth, it was the South African War of National Liberation.

The British Empire, working for the Jews and the rich London upper class, crucified the White Southern African nation with bullets, scorched earth, and concentration camps. Twenty-five thousand White women and children died in the camps in South Africa.

NEVER SURRENDER

The White people of South Africa fought back! By 1906, the Afrikaners (those of Dutch, German, and French Protestant descent) had risen from the bloody earth to expell 60,000 Chinese scabs brought into the country by the Jews and Anglo rich. In spite of all the hatreds caused by the recent war, the Dutch-Afrikaner folk allied with the English White workers to fight for a "White Labor Policy". It was a period of great struggle. The poor White Afrikaners rose in armed rebellion on the side of Germany. They were shot down after many guerrilla battles.

World War I interrupted this struggle. But the Afrikaner and Labor - kept organizing. At war's end, the two White peoples - Dutch and English - united again in the White workingman's fight.

WHITE WORKERS UNITE! The White workers revolted. They were divided into three camps:

(1) Labor Party White patriots, mostly British workers.

(2) Dutch Afrikaners of the Mynwerkersbond (Mine workers union): nationalists seeking an independent republic.

(3) Communists: Brits and Jews, the small minority. The workers formed armed Commando units. Their slogan was: "WHITE WORKERS OF THE WORLD UNITE AND FIGHT FOR A WHITE SOUTH AFRICA!"

In 1922, the Jews and rich English upper class decided to destroy the White miners in the Rand gold fields around Johannesburg. Thousands of White workers were to be fired and replaced by cheap Black scab labor.

Captured by worker volunteers

Traitor police shot and killed many workers. The rebel workers fought back and destroyed the police. Empire troops were ambushed and annihilated. The White commandos then seized one of the most important cities in the world, Johannesburg. They proclaimed a WHITE WORKER REPUBLIC.

Black scabs were executed. The bosses' go-boys, the mine supervisors were rounded-up and shot. A revolutionary White government was formed in Johannesburg. The entire world looked to South Africa.

DEFEAT

The traitor South African government, which had retreated to Cape Town, prepared a massive counter-strike. The Army and the Air Corp attacked rebel Johannesburg. Hundreds died as government forces overwhelmed Johannesburg and the camps of the goldminers.

On March 14, 1922, the traitor troops stormed the rebel headquarters. Those captured were shot and declared "suicides". A few days later the last resistance crumbled. The White rebel leaders were hanged or held for execution as "traitors".

White workers were mass-fired. Thousands of Black scabs were brought into the mines. The capitalists looked forward to total control and massive profits.

WHITE VICTORY

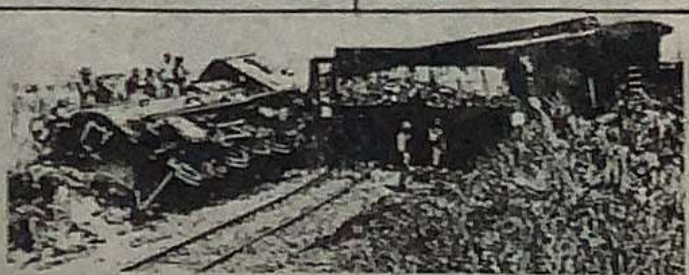

The White people of South Africa united. The Afrikaner Nationalist Party allied with the Labor Party of White English patriots. The coalition swept to victory in the election of 1924. The new White government enacted many laws: protection for White workers; government aid to small White farmers; tenant laws to stop the eviction of White working people; child labour codes to stop the exploitation of minors; health standard laws; the vote for White women. The races were separated and Black squatters were returned to their native homelands. The slogan of the White nationalist-Labor alliance was "VOTE WHITE FOR A WHITEMAN'S LAND!" This is how APARTHEID began...and should have continued.

But already the traitors were at work...

News in Brief

TORTURE INCORPORATED

U.S. Zoggys are not happy to have to simply jail Order members. New evidence is that various methods designed to break brave Order members is now in process. Men such as David Lane seem to have become a target for torture.

Recently Dave was moved from Terre Haute Federal Prison to Marion, Illinois Federal prison, the nation's worst prison. There is absolutely no excuse for this move since David Lane is not even classified that high according to the Bureau of Prison's own rules. This proves once and for all there are political prisoners in this nation and the Bureau of Prisons, on orders from the Justice Department are free to mistreat or torture at will. No surrender Dave. (Dear Zog, the time will come when someone must pay the piper).

CALIFORNIA

"Race and Reason", the nation's only White nationalist TV show, is going strong and reaching major cities across the entire nation. Recent attempts engineered by the dumbfounded and lame brain organization known lovingly as the A.D.L., to oust "Race and Reason" has more than doubled the demand for the program nationwide.

Perhaps this is the first stone wall these kosher crybabys have run into for a long time. To bad Hymie; you are not as powerful as you thought. In fact, you remind us of the big mouth Wizard of Oz and his very small creator.

Several hundred southern and northern comrades met for the traditional Klan gathering on the Labor Day weekend.

There were speeches ceremonies and a time to renew old friendships and create new ones. The Georgia version of the dreaded KGB (Georgia Bureau of Investigation) literally surrounded the gathering. This corrupt government intimidation galvanized an attitude of White resistance to politicians grown mad with power.

WASHINGTON STATE

Signs began appearing on the outskirts of some Washington State cities welcoming more Blacks, Mexicans and Vietnamese. Since phony White conservatives and liberals cry about how much they love the invasion, some enterprising movement soldiers are planting signs like, "We need more gooks please, or wetbacks or AIDS carrying Jamaicans". Let's jam it down there hypocrite and cowardly throat friends. Not a bad idea. A tip of the hat to our Washington state comrades and their stencils.

NSLF UNDER SEIGE

Karl Hand, well known leader of the NSLF, was recently jailed along with his wife Mary Sue, on the non-sensical charge of attempted murder.

Karl, in an attempt to defend his wife's honor from low life druggies, was jumped by five adult males. Hand was being beaten by these five with a tire iron when his faithful wife and movement activist Mary Sue ran to get a gun. Karl was able to grab the gun and inflict a serious wound on one of his assailants. Obviously this saved his own life and possibly Mary Sue's also. The Hands are charged with attempted murder and being held at: Jefferson Parrish Correctional Center, P.O. Box 388, Gretna, LA. - 70053. Your mail and support will be appreciated.

PIRATE RADIO ANYONE?

Rumors of dozens of Pirate radio broadcasts continue from around the country. Some are Anarchist, some racial, but all have Ronnie very upset.

From New York to sunny California more and more youths are defying Big Brother by transmitting taboo signals over AM-FM shortwave and in some cases even pirate TV. So all you kiddys keep your ears open and the jungle drums beating. Who's afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?

CANADA

Ernst Zundel and many other Canadian Freedom Fighters wage relentless counter attacks on the Neo-Soviet government of Canada. Zundel is facing jail and deportation to West Germany for his free speech activity. Can you imagine a government like West Germany being so stupid as to take on mighty Ernst, who makes grown Zionists tremble and corrupt judges weep? Ernst just might be a catalyst for the 4th Reich who knows? Give 'em hell Ernst. Write to Mr. Zundel at: 206 Carlton St., Toronto, Ontario, Canada, M5S 2L1

DEMOTED IRV

That ignominious toad Irving Rubin of the Jewish Defense League has been demoted since his Venice Beach faggots were smashed by WAR men at L.A.'s downtown train station.

Rubin has been left

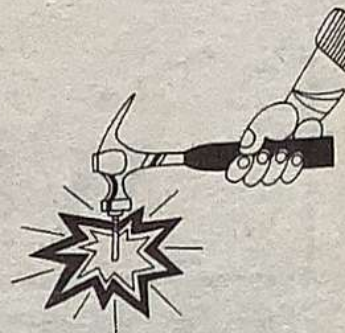

Los Angeles, while a junior Kike, Ben Joseph of New York, now runs the rest of the keystone kikes tricycle gang in other areas. In a recent TV interview horseface Irving said he was calming down and becoming more like the ADL (in other words, "more sneaky"). Rubin's new pussy status was recently reinforced by his complaint to Los Angeles city Attorney against White street fighters that they were making nasty calls to his phone machine. Oh gosh poor Irv, TSK, TSK.

CALIFORNIA

WAR associates, Aryan Nations members and National Socialist activists are becoming very bored with the Jewish/Big Money, White, city inquisitors of Los Angeles who have been trying to convict several men, including your editor, of freedom of assembly, speech, religion and other crimes from the Bill of Rights. October 9th, will start another episode in this continuing saga called "Let's screw them one way or another". Pre-trial is scheduled after 3 years. Let's see, I may be on social security before these nerds complete this ultimate folly.

EDITORIAL

For those who may have wondered at the separatist map that appeared in our last issue, take heart. The idea of a separate homeland is above all a statement of no confidence against the oligarchy in Washington.

In fact, this no confidence runs so deep that reconciliation is impossible. The "Wall Street Journal" recently fantasied on the near future when nations were no more. In their place only super-corporations remained. At that time, your patriotism and allegiance would be placed with whatever corporation was in control of your area of the world. "God bless Standard Oil", etc. While the article ostensibly was a myth, the big shots must drool at the idea that is so close to the reality of the times.

Anyhow, your editor did not commission the map and is not sure where it originated. What it did do was raise the flag up the flag pole to see who would salute. It seems effective since White Nationalists are discussing the issue far and wide. That was the goal anyway.

A recent folk song featured a ballad about Pretty Boy Floyd of outlaw legend. The song attacked banksters and pointed out that no outlaw bankrobber ever pushed a family out of their home and seized their land.

Also on many occasions outlaws of the day, who were given shelter by the small farmers, found a thousand dollar bill under the napkin when the gunman went on his way.

We all must agree, the people who rob with the stroke of a pen are far worse than the lone robber on the run.

The alliance between the super-rich and the State has never changed in this country or in most countries. Most laws are enacted to assist these predators in fleecing the people.

With such outlaw governments at large, gun laws of any kind are simply a method of containing unrest. We of WAR do not respect the conviction of anyone arrested on a weapons possession of any kind. Gun laws are bankster laws.

Understand my friend, that to survive one must not depend on mystic promises or rantings of natural rights. While you breathe and walk on two feet, you have the possibility of overcoming the fraudulent oppressor. Any other pipedream is a fabrication of your slave masters.

No White man wins when freedom fails; the best end up in banksters jails, and those who cry "make a deal, make a deal", will someday hang and squeal and squeal.

Your choice is simple; worship the State or strike out for you and yours.

Glenn Miller, strong leader of the White Patriot Party, has felt the full force of treachery from so-called White conservative elitists in his struggle for the average White worker. Jesse Helms, the darling of the dupes and dopes of the conservative movement, used his hand picked U.S. Attorney, Sam Currin, to railroad loyal White workers. This is an attempt to further ingratiate White conservative fat cats to Jew manipulators.

Leader Glenn Miller was sentenced to 6 months in federal prison for the 1st count of contempt of court and for the 2nd count of contempt of court he was sentenced to 3 years probation. Obviously designed to neutralize his dynamic leadership.

Steven Miller was found guilty of contempt of court, 6 months suspended sentence 90 days in a halfway house (such a deal).

The White Patriot Party was fined $2000 for alleged paramilitary activity, $1000 for each count of criminal contempt.

POP MUSIC'S "WHITE ROOTS"

WAR- Vol.5 - No.4 - 1986 Page 5

Music intellect-uals could be forced to concede that little musical influence comes from anywhere but the Western world. So, they center their musical arguments on the development of style. There seems to be a great need to credit Blacks with inventing this style presumably to give them credibility in the music world. The quest to credit Blacks in music came with a panic. The guy who wrote songs sung by Elvis Presley early in his career, were written by a Black. Several female groups that everyone thought were White, were Black (in the fifties). What the critics of "White influence" overlook is that everyone thought they were White because they sang like White girls.

The critics of "White influence" have searched in every dark corner for any Black guy who was present at the scene. Some have credited a Black guy for inventing "Rag-Time." They even made a movie out of it. It was about a Black illiterate who learned to play the piano in a whorehouse, met another Black guy who could write things down and who sold the music to a White publisher who exploited them. They both died of Syphilis before they found fame. With due respect to struggling Black musicians, the history of White musicians is filled with a great deal more struggle. Black musicians have a great deal of support to "be" musicians.

White musicians generally do so in spite of their circumstances. Secondly, rag-time is an identifiable derivative of Dixieland which Blacks would like to forget because of the word "Dixie" in it. And Dixieland music is an identifiable derivative of Polka music which is definitely European in origin. You can even see the "Polka" in "Rag-time". To the dismay of the critics of "White influence", the Polka set the standard for today's dance beat. They're still dancing to the same beat, they've just changed a few notes and have written new melodies.

Two other forms of music are erroneously attributed to the "Black influence" - Jazz and the "Blues". The music form that became known as "the Blues" was formed within Southern Black Baptist Churches, which of course got their music from Southern White Baptist Churches. "Blues" music can be traced to a Scottish song called, "Amazing Grace." It slipped the attention of New York's music critics because they probably never heard any Scottish folk music. It was the Scottish, and Scotch-Irish, whose tradition of "dissonant" sounds could make the quills on a porcupine stand up from ten miles away. The improvised "nature" of the "Blues" was derived from another religious influence called the "Pentecost". The Pentecostals believed in letting the spirit of God flow through them which in turn would cause fits of ecstasy and improvised bursts of praise for God. That it resembles voodoo is just a coincidence. Improvisation became the "soul" of Blues music. When a musician speak of the "Blues", he's speaking of a style of improvisation that comes out of him from his feelings. "Blues" music is therefore Scottish with the Pentecost as its vehicle. You can almost hear the bagpipes when you listen to the "Blues".

Jazz music is said to be derived from the "Blues". Music critics gave up on trying to nail down Jazz and simply conceded that it's "Black" music so they wouldn't have to argue about it anymore. In reality, Jazz is not a style of music at all. The term came from groups identifying themselves as "Jazz" bands which meant that they did a little of everything from "Blues" to "Dixieland." By then, they had forgotten that people were dancing to their "Polka" music and were calling it something else altogether. Jazz was just a musician's street term like musicians use to identify themselves today. If musicians say they're doing "Pop" music or "New Wave", they are not referring to a certain style of music. It means they're playing what they hear on the radio. It was the same with Jazz until George Gershwin decided to write a stage play called "Porgy and Bess." He took the music that the Jazz bands were playing and mixed it in with the big sound of a New York stage band. If anyone deserves credit for "inventing" what we believe to be jazz, it is he. He started what became known as the "big band" movement. The "big band" movement was a White movement. But, Blacks soon got into the act of emulating that "new" sound claiming it had been ripped off from them, when in fact, the original jazz bands usually had no more than four or five people and didn't have the big sound at all. And Blacks had forgotten where it came from to begin with.

To say that Blacks...an obvious slap in the face of American music is true. To say that Blacks have made significant contributions to the basic "sound" of music is not true. If they want to argue about who invented the drum, they'll have to do that with the Arabs. The Arabs invented the bass and snare drums to keep beat in the movement of troops, and they got the idea from the Romans who used much larger drums to move troops from a distance. Sumerians used drums in 3,000 B.C. The kettle drum is particularly European in origin and is the only one known to be able to vary its pitch. When Blacks use it in Rock n' Roll, they say they invented it.

Not even Punk music is completely original, but it is as original as any music in the last 100 years, and White.

What is significantly different about it, is that it is based on a two chord progression, whereas previous music was based on the three chord progression which was established by Johann Sebastian Bach in the 17th SEE- Pop Music - page 11

Dear Tom,

I appreciated your recent BERTRAND RUSSELL inclusion. As a fan of Russell before his censure for condemning the Viet Nam war effort of Lyndon Johnson, I recall his ringing declaration that:

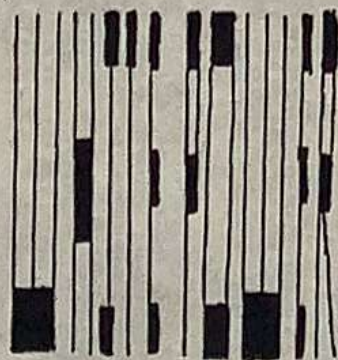

"Cooperation is better than competition."

...an obvious slap in the face of Capitalist measures (which start in 1st grade), to place White males in perpetual competition with one another, at the detriment to racial survival. Russell was condemned to the shredding vaults of California libraries for his activism against the sacrosanct Johnson in the early '70s by hundreds of state employed women, who were more than delighted to condemn any male who, in surpassing English diction, condemned the genocidal trend of the Viet Nam war. Russell's comment is only exceeded by Victor Hugo's encompassing social statement that:

"Society is responsible for the night it produces."

EXPLOITATION OF HUMAN RESOURCES

People's awareness of the history of the "Exploitation of the Human Resource" is conscientiously dimmed by its creators who we must still live with, side by side. Everyone else is their scapegoat. You can identify the guilty by their "clean image", their "complete innocence", and their "wealth". History's seekers of wealth, fame, and fortune have one thing to say about everybody else. They believe that everybody else would do the same thing "if" they could. There are complete societies of people who are committed to human exploitation. When one method fails, they employ or invent another. Sustaining their wealth and power is dependent on exploiting others. Exploiters must continue to "exploit", they "must not" appear to be exploiters, and if necessary, they must "kill" in order to maintain their power. Exploiters use the inventions of the creators against the creator. They provide opportunities for the creator to "create" so that his "creations" can be exploited. Exploiters are not the world's most intelligent creatures. In fact, they rank "slightly above average". Exploiters can invent little, are seldom admired for their works of art, and seldom can engineer any structure. And though that describes the most average of people, there is a gulf of difference between the exploiter and the average person. The exploiter has great wealth and is deficient in the genetic capacity to feel empathy for any living creature save himself. The exploiter is the product of centuries of genetic and cultural inbreeding which has carefully eliminated from their type the capacity to feel as the "exploited" do. How the exploited "feel" is an economic concern, not a humanitarian concern. As in America, every opportunity is seized upon to render people shortsighted on the subject of slavery. Americans have the impression that only Blacks were slaves and that only Whites took them. Slavery was not bound to a race and Whites were a small minority in taking them. Jews took White slaves to Argentina during the same period, and Arabs continued taking White slaves to the Middle East legally, years after the American Civil War. American Black slaves were not actually enslaved by Whites at all, but rather by other Blacks. The purchasers were predominantly Jewish. It was only after their enslavement that Whites purchased Blacks and provided a better life for them than they did for their fellow man, the White sharecropper. But, the White man is left holding the bag. The White man is the "sucker".

To properly punish this "White Race", the exploiter finds ways to destroy his Saxon ethnocentrism - to cut him off from his roots. The exploiter can not continue to exploit when his White victim is aware of his exploitation. The exploiter finds ways to disrupt his way of life, to turn his women against him, to seduce him into self-destruction.

Racial purity is an ugly, dirty thing to the exploiter. Racially pure groups work against him in a natural fashion. People who work for an ethnic community spend less time working for the common good of the exploiter.

The exploiter says that people who work for their race are "sick". They believe that with what they call their heart. "Working for your race" is an alien thought - so silly. Exploiters do not work for their race, they work for themselves. Other people who work for themselves are "good" people - like them. People who work for their ethnic community are strange, fanatic, weird. The exploiter can not comprehend the sense of community because he is alone, all alone. But he is not lonely. The capacity to be lonely has been bred out of his gene pool. When he marries, he seeks a bitch just like himself, someone who will not occupy much of his time. He marries a cold, cold fish who thinks only of herself. Her children are raised by a governess and are sent to boarding schools. She thinks of the money she'll get for having his children.

Exploiters come in all races. They all need a popular scapegoat. Saxons are it! Those racist Saxons who fought the Germans, but were

CHICAGO'S 'OPRAH'

Oprah Winfrey, Black act-alike for Phil (hair brush) Donahue, runs a video talk show (ABC) out of Chicago recently aired a White nationalist roast.

This type show is carefully orchestrated similar to a lion tamer and his chair.

The major event that captured our eye was the appearance of Judd Rose, ABC TV reporter, as a witness for the prosecution.

Mr. Rose was afforded entry to Aryan Nations on a so-called neutral ground basis, and Mr. Rose obviously had adequate opportunity to express his findings as a reporter, even if slanted, in his role as television reporter.

Unfortunately, Mr. Rose in appearing for the prosecution has blatantly crossed the line of journalistic etiquette. WAR recommends complete black listing of Mr. Rose and the ABC television network until further notice. CBS, NBC, CNN, and local, non-ABC stations are not to be trusted, but are acceptable for interviews under reasonable conditions.

WHITE STUDENT PROTEST IN FAIRFAX, VIRGINIA IN SUPPORT OF KEEPING THE SCHOOL STANDARD, THE CONFEDERATE FLAG AND TO BRING BACK 'JOHNNY REB'

Last month the newly appointed dean of a high school in Fairfax, Virginia ordered the removal of the school standard, which was the Confederate flag, and "Johnny Reb", the nickname for Southern soldiers during the American Civil War. The Dean felt that these standards were racist and offensive to the school's very few Black students, none of whom had made any complaints. The White students were quick to protest for the flag which is held dear in Virginia. Over 300 students showed up at rallies and over 1,000 signed protests that were sent to the school district headquarters.

These White students would be supportive of the Afrikaner people if an effort were made to reach them. A student exchange between American and Afrikaner students would go a long way in opening up lines of communication between these young people who have so much in common.

Panel: Open U.S. to more refugees

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A State Department panel, fearing a return to the days when boat people were "pushed back into the sea" by their Asian neighbors, on Friday urged the United States and other Western countries to provide haven for many of the 154,000 refugees living in Indo-Chinese camps.

The panel said the United States should resume admitting some refugees who have no family ties in America or other special qualifications for entry and that other nations should take their share as well.

The Reagan administration stopped processing applications from refugees without U.S. family ties in April 1982.

Former Iowa Gov. Robert D. Ray, chairman of the Indochinese Refugee Panel appointed by the department, told a news conference that although the United States has welcomed 800,000 Asian refugees since 1975, it should take the lead in solving the problem.

Others should help

But he said other countries should help, too, and mentioned West Germany, France and Japan as countries that had mounted worthwhile efforts at the height of the Asian exodus five or six years ago, but should be doing more now.

Ray said annual Asian refugee admissions to the United States are running close to the 43,500 permitted by law. He said he did not expect efforts to reduce the camp populations — or other changes recommended by the panel — to alter the numbers coming into the country.

The panel's overriding concern was internal pressure in Thailand and other Asian countries against granting "first asylum" to Vietnamese, Laotian and Khmer refugees.

Threats

"The threats to first asylum are again increasing and require concerted international efforts to prevent a return to the earlier situation in the region when refugee boats were pushed back into the sea and the Lao and Khmer refugees were forcibly repatriated," the report said.

Resettlement efforts should be aimed at the 35,000 "long stayers" in the camps who do not want to resettle abroad or cannot come to the United States because they have no family members here.

"The Southeast Asian states continue to seek assurances that they will not be left with an Indochinese population to resettle locally," the panel said. Thailand's camp population of about 124,000 is by far the largest, followed by Hong Kong, Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines and then five other countries, the report said.

Concerned

The panel expressed concern that an overbroad effort to empty the camps might spur new influxes of refugees, so it recommended that the reductions be done in a limited way.

The panel also said the United States should:

- Start processing more newcomers as immigrants rather than refugees.

- Mount a concerted campaign to hold Vietnam to promises to permit re-education camp inmates to come to the United States and to improve arrangements for the departure of Amerasians — mostly the offspring of Americans stationed in the country during the war.

- Support efforts to combat pirates who prey on refugees fleeing by boat.

Other members of the panel are Gale McGee, a former Wyoming senator; Jonathan Moore, a former high-ranking State Department Asian expert; Irena Kirkland, a member of the Board of the International Rescue Committee; and Edward C. Schmults, a former deputy attorney general.

The panel noted that the United States has resettled more refugees than any other country since 1975 and that immigration causes economic and social problems for the country.

The Beauty of White Youth

KLAN USING CABLE TV TO REACH MILLIONS

The TV camera pans in on a benevolent-looking man. In his well-modulated voice, he begins: "Welcome. The show is 'Race and Reason' and I am your moderator, Tom Metzger." Sponsored by the White American Political Association, a KKK front group, "Race and Reason" has put the white supremacist movement on-the-air and in the living rooms of homes throughout the country.

The program uses a talk-show format with Metzger (former Grand Dragon of the California KKK and leading ideologue of the Neo-Nazi movement) serving as moderator and producer. This show puts the KKK in touch with a potential audience of millions across the country through community access cable TV.

The Klan has learned some valuable lessons from more broadly-based and "respectable" right wing forces like the Moral Majority. Following in the footsteps of electronic preacher Jerry Falwell and direct-mail wizard Richard Viguerie, Metzger is heading for the 21st century, using the media and computers to reach, identify and mobilize a base of support for organized white supremacy.

Nationwide Exposure

In the last several months, Klan-TV expanded quickly. Starting monthly in San Diego, "Race and Reason" is shown weekly in Austin, Texas, and San Francisco and bimonthly in about 20 cities around Los Angeles. The show can be seen nightly in Oregon, Pennsylvania and upstate New York. Metzger plans to blanket the country within the next year.

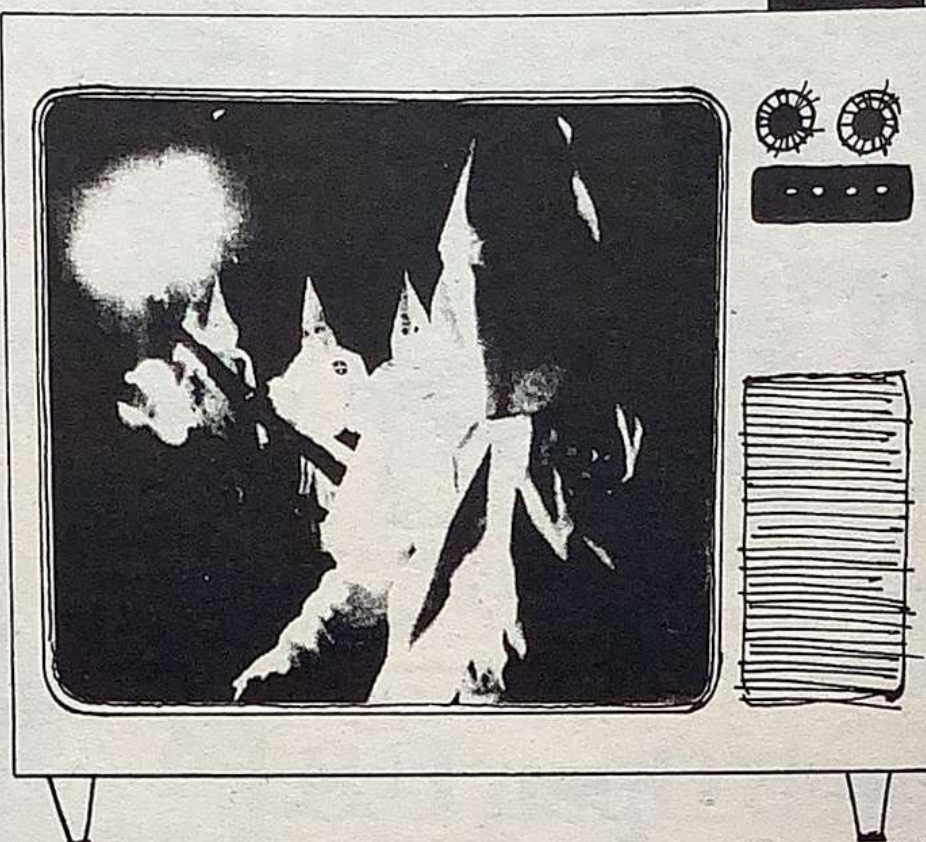

Cable TV is perfect for the Klan's goal of legitimizing racism and finding responsive audiences. Metzger takes advantage of "community access" stations where his racist propaganda is often defended as part of a diversity of opinion entitled to free speech. The show itself has a slick, low-key format. Metzger avoids the open advocacy of violence that the Klan preaches in its rallies and newspapers.

Born again as a TV talk-show host, Metzger is getting his message out to the folks he wants to reach in the privacy of their homes, without attracting much attention from potential opposition. In a period when most Klan groupings have turned away from public appearances, Metzger has hit on TV as the best way to maintain a public presence for the Klan. TV casts a broad net that draws in new followers and sympathizers without exposing them to public identification. It works as the perfect complement to the network of paramilitary camps that have concentrated and combat-trained the current hard-core.

Rogue's Gallery of Guests

A look at the list of guests Metzger has "interviewed" reveals the reality of violence behind the made-for-TV facade of reasonableness and dialogue.

- Greg Withrow, head of the racist White Student Union. He applauded the white student who murdered a Vietnamese youth in Sacramento as the "highest example of white manhood." After his appearance on the show, break-ins occurred at several Los Angeles high schools on Dr. Martin Luther King's birthday and racist literature was scattered around. Metzger defended the break-ins.
- Frank Silva, Klan leader from Los Angeles. He coordinated a triple cross-burning in December, 1983 that brought together Metzger's KKK, Los Angeles Nazis and Richard Butler's Aryan Nations. After his February, 1985 appearance on "Race and Reason," Silva was exposed as a member of The Order.
- Robert Miles, the Michigan leader of the Mountain Church of the Creator.

He is a prime mover in the Christian Identity Movement and a main spokesman for the armed Neo-Nazi underground. He recently hosted a 2-day conference at his Michigan compound that brought together more than 200 leaders of the KKK and Nazi movements.

- Other guests have included anti-semites from the Truth Mission and the Institute for Historical Review which deny that Hitler's holocaust ever happened.

Besides giving these terrorists a forum and aura of respectability, Metzger's TV show allows him to project himself nationally. The show is an important vehicle for overcoming the localism that has been a weakness of the Klan in the past, and for promoting national consolidation of KKK and Neo-Nazi leadership.

The Electronic Media: Computers to FM Radio

Metzger's show is only one element of the Klan's new electronic sophistication. The Aryan Nations has established its own national computer network, with seven layers of password-coded security systems. They distribute their propaganda on "computer bulletin boards" and identify anti-white supremacist groups and individuals who should be "obliterated".

For those in the racist movement who have not entered the personal computer arena, there's always the radio. KTTL-FM in Kansas, owned by a family linked to the violent Posse Comitatus, has been broadcasting racist and anti-semitic shows for years. The fruits of this work can be seen in the armed right wing violence growing in the region. Yet, for years the Federal Communications Commission refused to take action, claiming these programs were protected as "free speech." Last spring, after a campaign led by a coalition of Blacks, Jews and others, to demand that KTTL be taken off the air, the FCC renewed their license yet again.

How It All Fits Together

Klan TV programming fits into a multi-faceted racist organizing strategy leading directly to violence. A good example is Metzger's show in the San Francisco Bay Area. From November, 1984 to November, 1985, "Race and Reason" was aired weekly on Channel 25, Viacom Cablevision.

Simultaneously, Metzger's Klan front, White American Resistance (WAR), established a local telephone hotline. The recorded messages advertise for the TV show and call for the removal of Black people from "Aryan territory," accuse Jews of carrying out "genocidal abortion of white babies," and demand the death penalty for lesbians and gay men.

WAR also has done extensive leafletting, poster and selling of the WAR newspaper in white neighborhoods and on college campuses, including UC Berkeley. As a result, WAR's membership in the liberal Bay Area has climbed to over 20, making it the largest WAR chapter in the state.

The growth of WAR has dovetailed with the rise of violence by the racist right in the Bay Area. In February, 1985, a man who said he was from WAR called in a bomb threat to the Ethnic Studies Department at San Francisco State University. In May, a live bomb was discovered in a Black Studies classroom, timed to detonate while class was in session. Shortly after that, another live bomb was found in a synagogue in the Richmond district of San Francisco.

When rock-music promoter Bill Graham, whose mother and sister died in Auschwitz, organized a demonstration to protest Reagan's visit to Bitburg's Waffen-SS Nazi cemetery, his multi-million dollar office complex was burned to the ground. Neo-Nazis claimed credit. In September 1985, three pipe bombs with messages of "Death to all Zionist Jews" were found in San Francisco. When Coy Ray Phelps was arrested in connection with these bombings, racist literature and explosives were found in his home.

Local WAR leader Charles Miller denied any involvement with Phelps and said the actions were "ineffective." Instead, he said WAR supports the actions of The Order. Whether or not WAR was directly responsible for any of the bombings is not clear. What is clear is that their advocacy and support of such actions help create a climate in which racist violence can and will flourish.

Stopping Klan TV

Resistance to "Race and Reason" is building across the country. In Austin, the Black Citizen's Task Force stated that "history has shown that massive KKK propaganda is always followed by violent terrorist actions against Black people. We do not plan to allow any Black person to be killed by the KKK in Austin."

For the last year, JBAKC and the Center for Black Survival have been organizing in California to make people aware of the TV show, to expose its recruitment for the Klan and to mobilize community campaigns to get the show permanently off the air. In the Bay Area, the Black Cable Task Force, a progressive member of California's Cable Commission, and other community groups have stated their opposition to the show in strong terms.

In Southern California, over 400 people protested at Cal State-Fullerton on April 22. Cal State gives Tom Metzger use of their facilities to produce "Race and Reason." The demonstration demanded that Metzger get off the Cal State campus and that the university stop giving him equipment and space to produce the show.

"Race and Reason" was temporarily put off the air for a few months last summer, in response to community pressure. The cable station, Viacom, was ignoring the calls, petitions and demonstrations, but still had to do something. It tightened the rules governing programming, preventing shows from repeating more than once in three months. But, as we go to press, Metzger has produced new tapes and is back on the air.

Klan TV and the use of electronic media by the organized white supremacist movement represent a new sophistication in their strategy to win hearts and minds for their coming "race war." In response to the arrests of its military cadres this past year, the leading strategists have decided to emphasize massive low-key organizing to build a significant base for themselves. As they rebuild their fascist underground a public support network will be in place.

With Klan TV spreading nationally, we urge people to contact the JBAKC chapter nearest you to find out how you can help stop the growth of the racist movement.

When ever the Jewa move, there are always four factors:

1. Remove a government.
2. Move a labor pool.
3. Transfer property.
4. Change an economy.

The last 2,000 years of world history can be analyzed by that four factor formula.

CORRUPT ELITISTS

Elitism is rarely discussed anymore, but it is essential to understand the effects of elitism on a society if you're to understand why racists oppose it. The American theory of Political Science recognizes that in every society there are the "elite". They only argue about how much power the "elite" have within that society. Simply that someone belongs to the "elite" class does not make them an "elitist". That would be like saying that feminine women are feminists. Derived from the same "root" word, they have different meanings. To be "elite" is merely a consequence of circumstance; to be an "elitist" means to "be that person which practices elitism."

Elitists believe that within every society, there are those who are superior in every facet to others - culturally and genetically. They believe that the "superior" individuals should have the greatest amount of control on the destiny of that society and that the "inferior" individuals should have the least. Furthermore, the "inferior" individuals should be consigned to the least intellectual tasks required for the survival of that society (such as menial labor) and the "superior" individuals should be assigned the most intellectual tasks and they should be as "free" from menial labor as possible in order that their time be dedicated to intellectual pursuits.

Elitism, in itself, is not a racial philosophy. America is an elitist society and practices absolutely no institutional racism. America was also an elitist society when in fact, it "did" practice institutional racism. Elitists can be race-mixers or racists.

America's big problem is that its system of government was constructed by elitist/racists. When the "elitist" purged themselves of the "racism", they didn't realize that soon after, they would be asked to purge themselves from their "elitist" ways by the underclasses who sorely wish that they would "go to hell". The elitists/racists were tolerable to a racist society only as long as the elitists were racists. Now that America's elitists are race-mixers, they are forced to practice a very virulent form of bigotry. What people perceive as racist bigotry on the part of the government is in reality "race-mixing bigotry". They cleverly appeal to the racist bigotry that the underclasses have been forced to adopt for the sake of their ethnic integrity. The American elitist intends to practice and promote race-mixing and miscegenation. They have completely purged themselves of the "sin" of racism, but know that they can only remain in power as long as they "pretend" to have a racist "edge" about their character. The elitists of today are "the" bigots, "the" liars and "the" perverts.

Because the elitists believe that the "superior" individuals should rule, and because they recognize that there are people of all races who have "superior" individuals among them, they believe that a "superior" Negro or a "superior" Jew or Chinaman should have the right to rule underclass Whites. But, since the underclass Whites did not construct and motivate the so-called "sins" of the elitists/racists, they understandably feel they've been sold out by the new "sin-free" elitists who never changed position in society but rather changed the position of the "underclass" Whites. America's White status was achieved by ancestors who had served the White race and by no other means. If they want to be ashamed of that, fine. But, it doesn't do the White race any good. They peddle a lot of guilt against innocent White underclass people who in the past provided the genetic vehicle for the elitist to ascend to his position. Since the White elitist no longer serves the White race, but rather "all" races at the expense of the White underclass, it can no longer be said that his head has any less value impaled upon a stake.

Racist theory is not dependent on elitism. Racism by itself does not advocate supremacy, it advocates a racial preference. Racists who become elitists ultimately destroy a racist society at the point when they cease to be racist. When it no longer matters which race performs the labor for the intellectual pursuits of the elitist, they destroy the underclass that elitists have long forgotten that they were born from such underclass "White racial stock" and became part of the "elite" class by hook, crook, or good fortune in the days when America was institutionally racist. Their "Elite" provided the genetics for their ascendance. The new underclass that they create (for their labor) destroys them, in turn. The underclass of a "different" race will ultimately prefer to have an "elite" of the same race. Mr. "goodie-two-shoes-race-mixer-elitist" destroys his own progeny by selling out his race.

In racist theory, the "peasant" is interchangeable with the "aristocrat" simply by a matter of education because the "elite" would be of the same race. Aristocrats who survive are not elitist. They recognize that their situation occurred as a matter of circumstance rather than as a matter of superiority, even though they recognize that there are individuals with more ability than others.

In a racially homogeneous society, peasant girls have married aristocrats. It is a genetically "dynamic" society. A society of that nature is destroyed by the presence of another race by the jealousies that occur by the privilege of the host race.

Our founding fathers were rich because they were slave-owners. They sealed the fate of the White race from the beginning. What we see today is the inevitable results of their actions. Yet, this doesn't mean that we have to accept our circumstances as they are dictated by today's race-traitors.

Following our racist instincts will be the best medicine for the White race. Whites don't need non-White labor - the elitists do. Non-Whites made our White elitist rich in the beginning and no longer serve the interest of White people. (they get rich while the White race is guilty; how convenient for them).

It must never be forgotten that America's elitists are making their millions through racial corruption. And, it shouldn't be forgotten that the inevitable result of elitism "is" racial corruption. They keep "rakin' in that dough, baby" and "to hell with you, Whitey." And as long as you keep shoving that Jew money at 'em, they'll tell you anything you want to hear - even if it's racist. But, just don't forget that they're not. America's White elitist are completely corrupt and no longer serve the interest of White people. ■

Soviet fascists with swastikas

MOSCOW — Everywhere in Moscow these days the same question is being asked: "Have you heard about the fascist demonstration?" Then follow wildly differing details about the membership and activity of a neo-Nazi youth movement rapidly gaining notoriety.

The group has a "Fuhrer" and a "deputy Fuhrer," both skilled workers about 30 years old. The members themselves are usually older schoolchildren. Their slogan is "Only fascism will save Russia," and their main demands are racist, intended to save the white race in Russia, which they define as European Russians, Ukrainians, Byelorussians, Latvians, Lithuanians and Estonians.

Saving these people requires expelling Soviet Jews to Israel and turning the southern and central Asian republics into colonies to feed the white Russians. They also believe intermarriage should be outlawed and southerners prevented from settling in European Russia.

But these fascists do not want Russia to become a capitalist country — their disapproval of the present regime is based upon what they regard as its internationalism, in theory, at least, promoting equality between the different nations which make up the Soviet Union. ■

AMERICAN STUDENTS SUPPORT THE BOERS
By R.J. Hoy

White students across the United States have come out in support of the White people in South Africa, in demonstrations which have often been violent. In Baltimore, which is about 40 miles east of Washington, D.C., White students firebombed a "shantytown" that anti-South Africa students had built to protest John Hopkins University's present investments in companies doing business in South Africa. The students, who are members of a group called "Coalition for a free South Africa" were warned by the school administration that other student groups complained about the shantytown and demanded its removal. The firebombing in Baltimore was one of many clashes that have pitted students against anti-apartheid protesters; Dartmouth College in New England in particular has been the scene of several arrests of students on both sides of the issue.

Most of the anti-apartheid protesters at John Hopkin University, America's leading medical research university, were from Britain and were dismayed by the lack of support or understanding for their cause. They said their fellow students and key administrators at the college did not fully understand the protest, and resented the eyesore of the shanties and their crudely lettered signs. "People have a sense that, well, Africa is Africa, and you can leave it at that", said Patrick Bond, a graduate student from Northern Ireland who is the leader of the group that includes two White women from Canada and Ireland and a Black man from London, England. "This is a nice White elite setting in a city that is 65 percent Black", said Bond, "This is an environment of hostility, an environment of intolerance."

The shanties on many American college campuses have been the target of attacks, and the shanty at John Hopkins had been earlier attacked by American students who hurled eggs and stone blocks against the unoccupied huts. In order to protect the shanties from destruction, which was the case at Dartmouth college when students destroyed the shanties with hammers, the students protesting South Africa at John Hopkins took turns staying inside the shanties at night. On the night of May 25th students splashed gasoline against the shanty in which the protesting students were sitting and set it on fire. No students were hurt but the incident caused the college administration to order the removal of the protest shanties. This has been done at many colleges around the U.S. for fear of attacks from White students who oppose the anti-apartheid movement.

Afrikaners draw map for white homeland

By Eric Marsden
London Sunday Times

JOHANNESBURG — Right-wing Afrikaners are so convinced that President Pieter Botha's reforms will lead to eventual black rule that they are making plans to carve out a permanent white South African homeland.

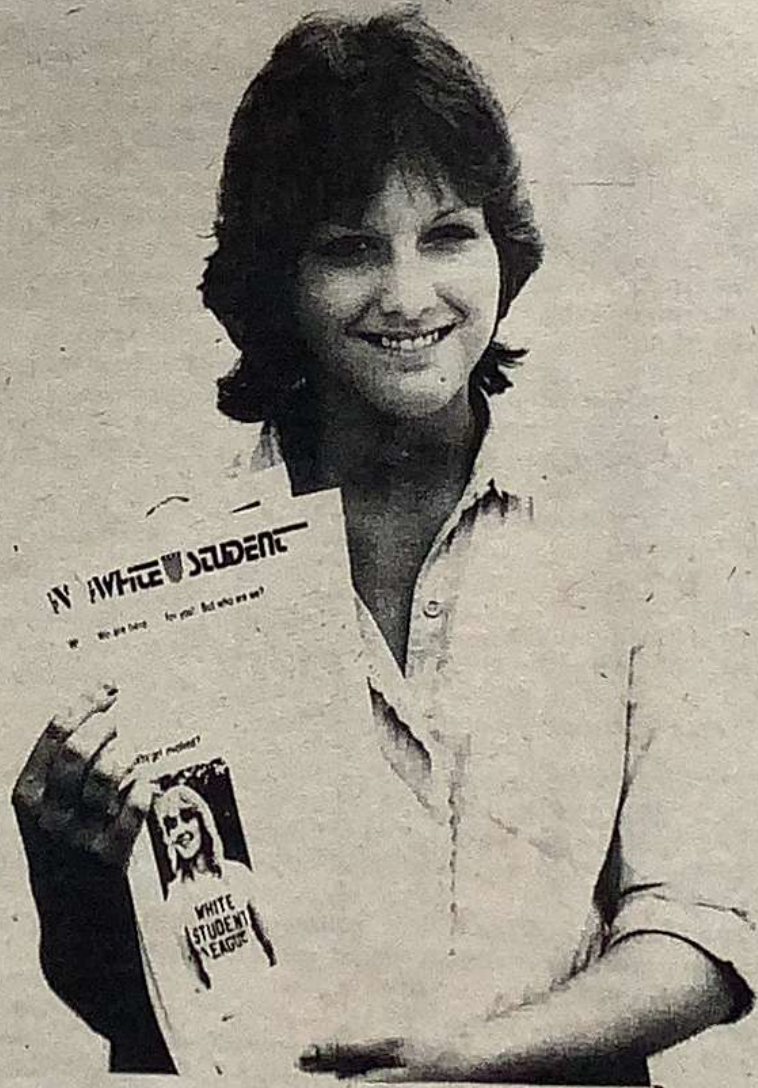

Drawing up the borders of such a state was once an intellectual parlor game; now the blueprints are being drawn in earnest. And, the planners can no longer be regarded as cranks.

DOUG PARKER/TORONTO STAR

Purer apartheid: Afrikaner teacher Pieter Bruwer makes startling proposals for dividing South Africa. The Transvaal and Free State would be at the heart of his permanent white homeland.

anti-communists, who saved the Jews, but didn't save the Jews because we didn't come fast enough, who hate Russians, not because they have Jewish leaders because that would be anti-semitic, who love all the people of the world, except racists, unless they're Jewish, then look the other way because they call themselves God's chosen people. Who are all Christians that support integrated churches and money grabbing preachers that will marry a Mexican to a Saxon girl. This is the Saxon of today.

The exploiter thrives on racial chaos. He can not exist where there is no chaos. People learn to think in the absence of chaos and they inevitably will destroy their exploiters. The exploiter must confuse the people he exploits. He convinces them that someone else is their exploiter. And in the dust of destruction, when people are starving and need jobs, he has cheap, cheap labor so that he can exploit again.

It must be irritating to Blacks and Jews to be told that they didn't invent anything, and that they have never been able to get too original, since their music wouldn't sell to Whites if they had. When American White Saxons hear "Jewish" music, they're seldom aware that they're hearing Russian folk music. There have indeed been many Black and Jewish composers, but in the Western world they've succeeded by catering to the taste of White Westerners.

Music outside the "Western" form has always been considered "exotic" like Chinese and Black Reggae music (if there's a difference).

What shaped Western music so solidly and perpetuated its traditional Western sound was the Dutch theoreticians of the 17th century. Though Johann Sebastian Bach is the most renowned theoretician, it is only because he had twelve children, five of whom became theoreticians and spread his work around. Bach was actually the last of an era of theoreticians and there were greater ones before him. Western musicians today do everything they can to "stretch" Bach's three-chord structure. They throw in related chords, modulate to different keys, add 9ths, 13ths, and major 7ths, but regardless of what they do, it was all laid out in the 17th century Netherlands. It simply took another 400 years before people could stand to listen to what the theoreticians said was possible.

Modern musical snobbery is therefore objectionable to accomplished and erudite musicians. If Blacks want to take credit for any part of Western music, they should first present us with a wealth of African musical theory. Then, they can find the Black tribe that used to beat on the strings that became known as the piano, and who organized the scales into those sounds with which we're all familiar. Simply to say that a "variation" on a theme is original is like saying that the guy who slaps the ocean should be called a genius, if no-one can prove that somebody else didn't slap it first.

CHARACTERISTICS: All the above mass murderers are male with no exceptions, indicating that mass murder is an exclusively male endeavor. Racially, of 21 mass murderers, two (2) are Mexican, one (1) is Jewish and one (1) is Negro. Out of 21 cases 13 involved the handgun as a method of assassination. In at least five (5) cases, the assassins were employed in work requiring handguns or were handgun instructors. Nine of twenty-one cases occurred in the State of California. Nearly all murders occurred in areas of high population density. Eight of 21 were clearly related to sexual frustration. The mean average persons killed for all 21 cases is FOURTEEN.

THE NEWSPAPER OF THE INTERNATIONAL WHITE RACIST
 We aim to become the number one information source for the movement in the world. To do that we'll need your teamwork and cooperation: first in sending us clear, concise and up-to-the-minute reports on White racist activities in your area, emphasizing news. Who did what and when and why. Include photos or newsclips whenever possible. Secondly, we need your green. In the past we have come to you for assistance very seldom. We have made no concerted pitch for funding, nor will we. If White racists can't recognize an effective, street-fighting, revolutionary White army when they see one, that's their tough luck. They'll pay for their blindness in the future, if they don't support militant White fighters now!

In the past, we published without any fixed subscription fee, relying on a trickle of a few random dollars now and then as the spirit moved our readers. But now we are growing--like wildfire. Our discipline and militance, our new reporters and staff members, are coming together to create the revolutionary newspaper this movement needs. To grow and be professional we need your subscriptions. We are on a solid monthly publication basis from here on. A one year subscription--12 full-length issues--is only $12. If you can't afford $12 for a White newspaper you can't afford to be in this movement. As always we need your support as well, in other forms. And, anyone who is a financial supporter, sending a minimum of $5 per month, will receive W.A.R. absolutely free.

Dear Tom: I'm with you, White brother! Please send me (check one)

() 12 big issues of W.A.R. at $12 () 24 issues, $20 (save $4)

Foreign: Add 10% and remit in U.S. Funds.

() Forget the paid sub. I want to support the street-fighters. I solemnly pledge to send (check one ()$5.00 ()$10.00 ()$20.00 ()$50.00 per month for the next year. Please sign me up for a free subscription to W.A.R. I'm enclosing $_____ as my first month's pledge (Important note: Supporters must send a minimum of $10 with their first pledge to qualify for a free W.A.R. subscription). The Brave

To set the Cause
 above renown,
 To love the game
 beyond the prize,
 To honor, while you
 strike him down,
 The foe that comes with fearless eyes:
 To count the life of battle good,
 And dear the land
 that gave you birth,
 And dearer yet the brotherhood
 That binds the brave of all the earth.

Sir Henry John
 Newbold (1862-1938)
